

ABSTRACT

A voice signal is transmitted in an MOST network on a single channel. The width of the transmitted voice data words is preferably up to 14 bits, and each voice data word is transmitted
5 into successive clock periods of the MOST network, in a byte that includes seven bits of the voice data word and one identifier bit.